We agree to be open, honest and frank with each other to expedite the work.

We agree to give time to complete this work by following the timelines in the stages of the research and official time for the public and professional duties of the adviser.

We agree to inform each other of developments such as submission to the Dean must bear the signature of the adviser as an endorsement, and whoever is going to present the paper in a public forum, and presentation of the article to a particular journal.

We agree that financial benefit arising from the study such as grants and awards shall go to the advisees while benefit from publication shall go to the rank and promotion of the adviser.
